A support programme for commissioners and providers

If you could benefit from support to meet the challenges of personalisation, this programme is for you.

Working with In Control and partner agencies in your region will help you build Self-Directed Support for all your consumers and customers.

This support and development programme offers:

- * help in achieving goals and sustainable outcomes in your area
- * a flexible programme that meets your local needs
- * support from a range of people with expertise in the field
- * diverse supports including seminars, workshops, action learning sets, networks and website support
- * a person-centred organisational readiness tool that will produce a bespoke action plan for your area
- * an experienced In Control lead staff member dedicated to helping you throughout the programme
- * the input of commissioners and providers who have already made real progress in personalisation.

The programme

The programme begins with a regional, two-day readiness session. This initial session will establish individual baselines for action and plot out the milestones that individual participants need to reach during the programme. The initial days will produce an action plan setting out how will achieve our goals.

The programme is bespoke to your area. In Control's support menu covers all important aspects of Self-Directed Support. You choose up to 10 elements that are important for your organisation.

The support menu includes:

- * organisational readiness check
- * Self-Directed Support policy
- * finance
- * support planning
- * contracting with individuals
- * monitoring and reviewing
- * individual service funds
- * individual service design
- * decision-making and risk
- * marketing services.
